

DISINTEGRATION OF RUSSIA MAY COME UNLESS A LEADER APPEARS

Modern Cromwell is Needed To Control If Nation is to be Saved From What Now Appears to be Its Fate.

(By Herbert Bailey).

Petrograd, May 14, via London, May 15.—The conviction that Russia can be saved only by the energy, resolution and statesmanship of a modern Cromwell, or else ultimately pass into a state of disintegration, in which Russia as an unified element will be replaced by a number of small republics under the domination of Germany, is impressing the minds even of those who regard anything in the form of dictatorship with fear and aversion. We have the radical Retch, asking to-day:

"Is it possible, indeed, that we shall not be able to win through without a dictator, as foreshadowed in the bulletin of the council of soldiers and workmen's deputies? We have Krasinsky, Socialist minister, asking: 'Is it the case that free Russia is a state of revolted slaves?' And frankly telling delegations from the front at a council: 'We have taken our sip of freedom, and it has somewhat intoxicated us. We have been fraternizing at the front; we have the public of Schusselberg defying the provisional government, and we have the house of the Duke of Leuchtenburg in Petrograd held by anarchists, with the government powerless.'

The council of soldiers and workmen's deputies protests, but is unwilling to support active measures against these enemies of free Russia and through its bulletins warns army commanders against threatening to turn the artillery on troops who fraternize with the enemy. At the same time the council expressed its willingness to compromise with the leaders of the Red Guard, providing the members of that body are confined to bona fide workmen.

Such is the spectacle in Russia to-day. In it we see all the elements of disunion which is typical of the Slav who precipitated the fall of the old republics of Novgorod and Pskov into autocratic power. Even to patriotic Russians this historical analogy is impressive, but the menace now is not autocratic, but Hohenzollernism. Hence the growing conviction that a dictatorship or disintegration is inevitable. Meanwhile there is little likelihood of a coalition ministry, which it is practically certain, would not enter such a ministry, while the Socialists generally are hostile to the government's appeal.

TARIFF ISSUE TO BE CLEAN CUT IN HOUSE

that the time has come for a change in the method of raising our revenues. He added that the present method does not constitute a square deal for the common people of this country.

Mr. Cruise advocated a tax of one per cent on land values which would bring a revenue of about eighty millions, and an income tax which would bring a revenue of about fifty millions. He considered that one hundred millions more should have been taken from the manufacturers, all of which in addition to the sixty millions which had been derived from customs would have produced two hundred and ninety millions wherewith to bear the expenses of the war.

Referring to the question of machinery for the western farmers, he said they had to pay from 27 to 40 per cent duty on implements. They had to pay that much more than the American farmer and yet they only got the same price for their wheat.

Some one remarked that the western farmers were buying American machinery. "Oh, yes," replied Mr. Cruise, "if you want to be loyal to your country, you must buy American machinery so that the revenue from customs will go into the treasury."

The member for Dauphin said he felt that the government had risen to the occasion in respect to the war in everything except getting the men to take the place of those in the trenches. He thought they all should get together to secure the half million men the prime minister had pledged.

Centralizing Canada's Wealth
Mr. Cruise said the finance minister had stated in Toronto that Canada would come out of this war in a better financial condition than when it started. Who would come out better? he asked. Certainly not the men in the trenches. He declared that the government was centralizing the wealth of the country in the hands of three or four thousand people.

He calculated that all that had been used to finance the war since the beginning was $10,712,994 of the revenue of Canada, and to say that we were financing the war to a large extent was misleading the country.

Mr. Cruise concluded by saying that the farmers of western Canada were pleased to have free wheat, but they regretted that they did not get free oats, free flax and free barley.

The house then went into committee and Mr. Nesbitt, of North York, proceeded to condemn the excess business profits tax. He declared that the reason why the minister of finance had created the tax in this way was because it touched the least number of people and he found it convenient to do so. Mr. Nesbitt declared that it would injure the prospects of securing the investment of capital for business in this country. He described it as "unwise taxation" and felt assured that it would destroy big business in the Dominion.

Making Man Power Available
Sir Thomas, who followed, said that only the other day, F. N. McCrea, of Sherbrooke, had launched an attack on him for not taking enough out of the manufacturers and now Mr. Nesbitt was blaming him for taking too much. This was not a time of peace, he said, when it was necessary to have the investment of capital for business in this country. He described it as "unwise taxation" and felt assured that it would destroy big business in the Dominion.

Fear That Situation There is Getting Worse Instead of Better

Paris, May 15.—The resignations of the Russian minister of war, M. Guchkov, and General Kornilov, the military commander of Petrograd, have caused a painful impression here and increased the feeling that the situation in Russia is getting worse instead of better, and that more rapidly than was suspected. Even the Socialist Humanists, which naturally view all things by the revolutionary eye, declare: "All Liberals and Democrats the world over feel only a too comprehensible anxiety at the turn events are taking."

The Royalist Gaulois proclaims the bankruptcy of the Russian revolution, and Stephen Pichon, in the Petit Journal, says:

"Each day the Petrograd government is led to make fresh concessions, to abandon more and more power to theorists preaching disorder and disarming in the face of an invader."

APPEAL ISSUED TO SOLDIERS TO DEFEND RUSSIA

Soldiers and Workmen's Delegates Deputies Are Warned Against German Imperialism

Petrograd, via London, May 15.—The council of soldiers and workmen's deputies has issued an appeal to the army in which it declares that German imperialism is seeking to destroy revolutionary Russia and enslave the Russian people. It appeals to the soldiers to defend Russia with all their power and declares that a separate peace is impossible.

Must Be By General Agreement.
The appeal says that the only solution of the war is general agreement among all nations by common agreement. It asserts that the council is aiming at peace by calling for a revolution among the workmen and peasants of Germany and Austria-Hungary, but that peace cannot be achieved unless the enemy at the front is checked.

The manifesto concludes with warning the soldiers not to renounce their offensive and warns against fraternizing with the enemy, which it says, cannot end the war.

Government Proclamation.
The provisional government has issued the following proclamation: "The provisional government which is fully aware of the danger at present facing Russia, considers that in obedience to the dictates of conscience it has no right to shift the burden of power and is remaining at its post."

The provisional government is confident that the participation by new representatives of democracy in the responsible task of government will re-establish that unity and fulfillment of power in which the country will find its salvation."

Strikes hinder making of tanks

Minister of Munitions Tells of Effects of British Engineers Strikes

London, May 15.—Dr. Christopher Addison, minister of munitions, in the course of a statement dealing with the engineers' strike, says:

"These strikes are particularly affecting such things as big guns, tanks and airplanes. The supply of these has been gravely affected."

"A continuation of the offensive in June depends upon things that now are being finished in the shops. What is being done now is that which will affect the soldiers in June and July and they will not, unless rapid work is resumed, be able to go forward with that protection from the tanks that they should have."

Dr. Addison dwells further on the importance of the tanks, saying that they are very popular with the army and that the authorities have considerable difficulty in supplying them.

As the society had several reports that the police bears in their animal act at Pantheons were being cruelly treated, the society went to see the performance, and although not actually seeing cruelty, they thought it advisable to see the manager afterwards. He agreed that it was the principle we wanted to get at, as a great deal of cruelty must exist in the housing of these animals.

Behind the Footlights

What the Advance Man says.

NO MORE SERIAL WILL BE SHOWN AT THE PANTAGES

There is "nap" in every corner of the city at the Pantages theatre this week. One of the most classy, colorful, clean acts that has been here at the Pantages in many months is "The Magazine Girls," a tabloid musical offering far out of the beaten path and therefore deserving of a place in the theatre. Gowns that startle the most conservative are shown in this beautiful act in which a dancer and a singer are featured.

Ed. Blondell is back with his "Boy from Home," which never fails of a hearty response from vaudeville audiences, and Miller and Lyle on their second visit to Edmonton in four years win just as many friends with their eccentric dancing as ever. The Four Virginia Girls headed by Flo Gillespie dispense harmony in a manner that makes this act the outstanding one of the bill, and Gerard's monkeys are certain to amuse the children.

Manager Calvert announces that no more serial films will be shown at the Pantages theatre. This decision was reached after Mr. Calvert had consulted with many of the patrons of the theatre, and the decision was almost unanimous against the continuance of the policy of showing serials. The first Pantages serial, "The Iron Claw," proved a successful drawing card in twenty weeks, but "The Shielding Arm," and especially "Pearl of the Army," now closing its fifteenth episode, are so utterly absurd even as serial films go that it was decided to substitute a live show weekly of world events and a rapid one reel comedy each week. This policy will be adhered to starting next week.

FRANK SPEIGHT AT THE EMPIRE TONIGHT
Tonight at the Empire Theatre Mr. Frank Speight, the eminent English character actor, will give his famous characterization of Charles Dickens' immortal story, "Pickwick."

Mr. Speight has just completed a triumphal tour of the United States, entering Canada at Vancouver, where he appeared in May 11th. On Monday and Tuesday night of this week he appeared at the Grand Theatre in Calgary. Tonight and Friday night he appears in Edmonton. Next Monday night he will be in Regina, and he will fill a three night engagement in Winnipeg before returning to New York, from where he will sail for his home in England.

His Edmonton engagement is creating a great amount of interest, as it is the first time that Mr. Speight has appeared here, and his coming marks a step upward in our growth as a modern city. During Mr. Speight's stay in the city he will be entertained by the Women's Press club, and it is probable that he will be a guest of the Rotary club on Thursday.

The plan for the recitals is now open at the Empire Theatre box office, and an early selection of seats is advised. The pupils of the local high schools will attend these performances in large numbers, having spoken for a block of seats.

On Friday night Mr. Speight will give his own famous interpretation of David Copperfield.

introduces her to a "gentleman friend" with an invitation to come out and have a good time. Eva's whole thoughts centre upon the purchase of a pair of shoes, her own being upon the point of falling apart through hard usage. Reaching the limit of endurance, she finally succumbs to the temptation. When she reaches home in the morning, she signifies what has happened by simply discarding her skirts and disclosing a new pair of shoes.

As visualized upon the screen the story is full of pathos, making one of the strongest dramas yet produced by the Bluebird company.

EMPIRE—Friday the 13th, the title of the photoplay drama which is at the Empire theatre today for the last time, is taken from the day and date on which one of the most original stock market stories was supposed to have taken place. A great fortune was created a few years past when Thomas W. Lawson, well known financier and millionaire, became contributing editor of a high-class popular magazine. One of his famous stories was "Friday the 13th." In the story a phenomenal was the success of Robert Brownley on the stock exchange and a false tip on the market. Lawson invests all his own money and money from an estate on which he was trustee. Discouraged, he was about to commit suicide when his daughter, Beulah, entered. She vows vengeance against the Brownleys, and starting out through mutual friends she obtains a position as secretary for the elder Mr. Brownley. There she learns many of the secrets of the Brownleys, and helps her father recoup his losses. By giving Brownley a false tip that Salomon steel is about to declare a dividend, Stevens and Judge Sands united their Salomon steel stock through the change upon which Brownley and his associates. Bob Brownley makes a determined effort to buy the market, and other brokers, influenced by his heavy buying, follow suit, causing a riot on the exchange. This all happens on Friday the 13th. The love story of the elder Brownley and his young wife, who attempts to elope with another, and young Brownley's romance with his father's secretary, add interest and fascination to a story, which ends happily as all good dramas should, when Bob Brownley and Beulah are married and a reconciliation follows between Peter Brownley and Judge Sands.

Details of the organization will be given in the Saturday issue of The Bulletin. The following are the officers: Secretary, G. R. Jackson; president, Colin Hamby; first vice-president, F. DYSPEPSIA MOST DIFFICULT TO CURE BUT B.B.B. DOES IT

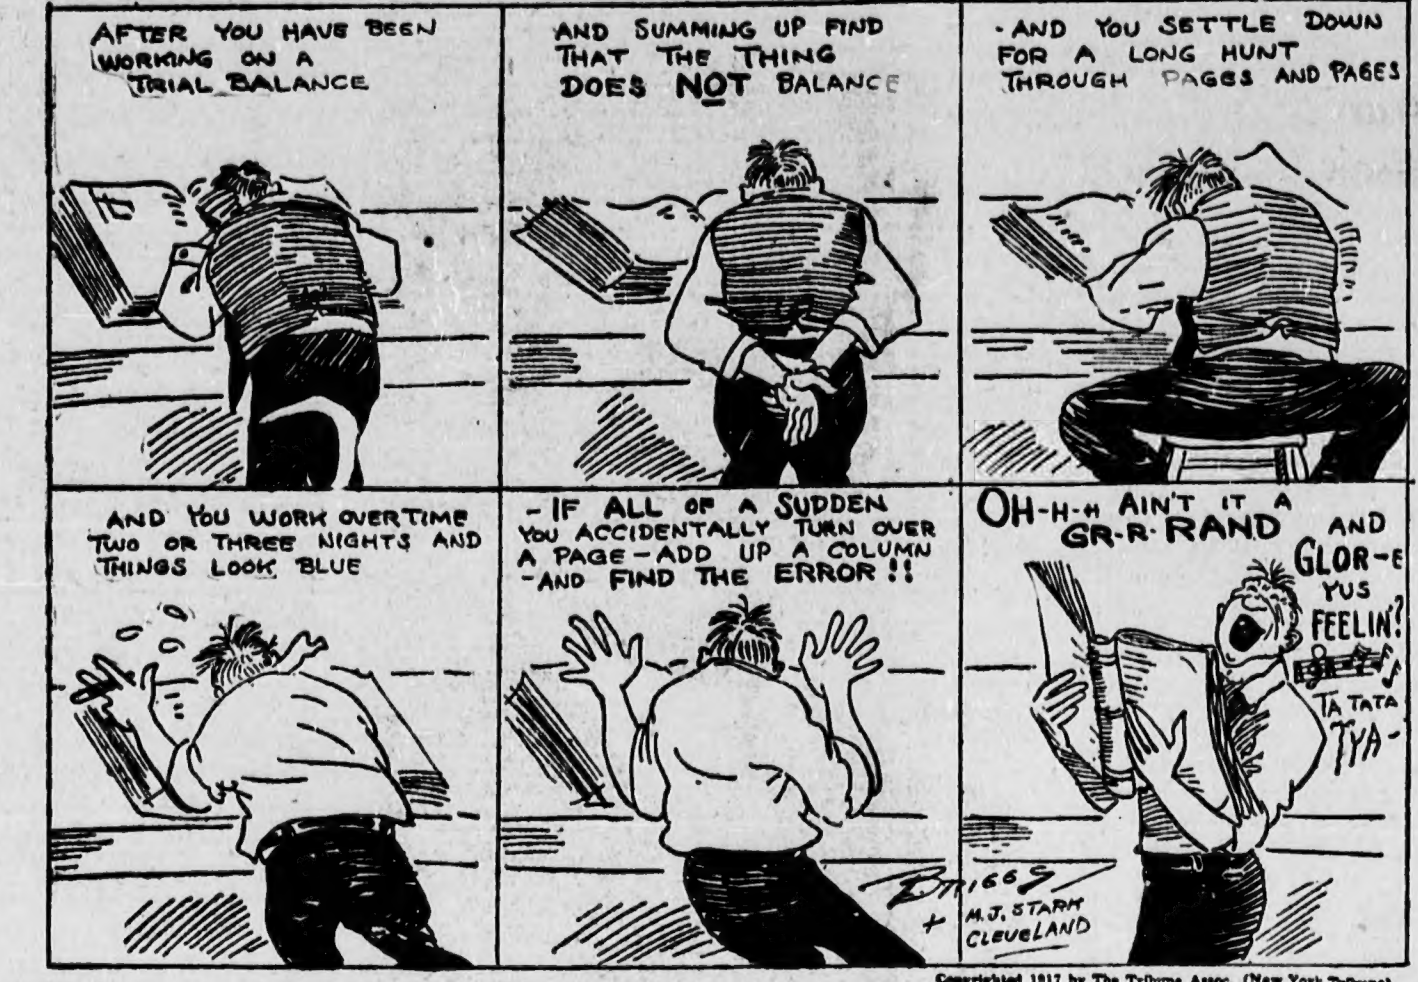

Dyspepsia is one of the most difficult diseases of the stomach there is. You eat too much; drink too much; the stomach works overtime. You eat it perform more than it should be called on to do. The natural result is that it is going to rebel against the amount of work put on it. It is only a matter of time before dyspepsia follows.

That forty-year-old remedy, Burdock Blood Bitters, will cure the dyspepsia and will cure it to stay cured. It can prove by the thousands of testimonials we receive from time to time.

E. B. Cameron, Ellerslie, N. S. W. writes: "I am writing you a few lines to tell you what your great medicine, Burdock Blood Bitters, has done for me. I was troubled very much with dyspepsia for the past two years. I recommended all kinds of medicine, but they did not help me any. A friend advised me to try a bottle of B.B.B. I took four bottles and was totally cured. I will gladly recommend it to all sufferers."

B.B.B. is manufactured only by T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto.
